APRIL IS FINANCIAL LITERACY MONTH and.....

Financial Readiness is a BIG part of Mission Readiness!

Every Soldier trains to be ready – prepares for the unexpected – your finances deserve the same attention. With steady pay and benefits, Soldier and their families have many opportunities to develop a solid financial plan so the unexpected does not cause a burden. That's where Financial Literacy helps – it's a tool for Financial Readiness. It won't eliminate financial problems but it may make them easier for you to navigate. If you would like more information or an objective eye on sizing up your finances, Army Community Service Financial Readiness is here to help. Put yourself in the driver's seat and call (502) 624-5989.

FAP Leader Training for Command Teams, FAP Troop Training for Units, and FAP Professional Trainings are available by request.

Fort Knox Policy Memo Number 6, Commanders “will attend domestic abuse and child abuse commander briefing designed for unit commanders within 45 days of assuming command and ensure Soldiers attend FAP troop awareness briefing on domestic abuse and child abuse to include resources available presented by ACS personnel.”

To schedule FAP Training, please contact:

Dr. Megan Setter, Acting Family Advocacy Program Manager
